

BROOKE HOUSE COLLEGE ENGLAND

University Foundation Programme

The Brooke House College University Foundation Programme offers an alternative route into studying at a world-class university with just one year of study instead of the standard two year A-level course, saving a year of fees.

- Flexible study options with two enrolment dates: September and January (other dates by negotiation)
- Wide range of subject pathways – including a Flexi-pathway the best way to ‘play to your strengths’ by a modular ‘Pick and Mix’ approach
- On completion students benefit from receiving a comprehensive academic package which embeds appropriate knowledge and theory most suited for higher education
- Subject to students meeting the conditional offer made by their chosen university, the students can progress to university for their chosen undergraduate course
 - The curriculum is taught in small class sizes, offering a personal experience with a high level of teacher attention
 - There is a strong emphasis on developing study skills, subject theory and knowledge thus preparing students to excel at university
 - The curriculum is taught by professional and highly skilled academic teachers with subject knowledge and experience
 - Wide selection of pathway choice; Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Engineering, Business, Architecture, Art, Contour Fashion, Media and Communication
 - Students successfully progress to a wide-ranging number of universities in the UK and increasingly overseas. Within the UK, the UFP is accepted at over 125 leading British universities including the Russell group and The Times top 30 universities.

Why choose to study a Brooke House College University Foundation Programme?

The University Foundation Programme (UFP) has been delivered successfully at Brooke House College and with our global franchise partners for over 30 years and is highly respected as a preparatory programme for international students by a large number of universities.

Are you University ready?

This programme aims to provide a bridging preparatory course between Secondary Education and Higher Education undergraduate programmes at university.

The flexibility at Brooke House allows us to work with you for the best fit and we assess each applicant case by case.

Our focus and purpose is to prepare students exceptionally well for Higher Education; academically, subject theory and knowledge, study skills, maturity and where appropriate, language development and IELTS or equivalent.

Whether you are looking to study Law, Architecture or some other undergraduate degree programme, being well prepared to make the very best of your university programme is essential to your success. Parents, Educational Specialists and universities see the value in offering students a preparation programme for university, evidence shows that those students who are well prepared excel at university.

The programme gives you a wide choice of subjects within 6 Pathways; STEM, Business and Finance, Communications and Media, Humanities and Social Studies, Creative Arts and the very popular “Flexi-pathway”.

There is a strong focus on careers advice, guidance and assistance in applying for university and we pride ourselves on bespoke up-to-date education, giving students access to universities and their comprehensive portfolio of programmes.

A key component of this programme is its flexibility. The programme has been developed to offer students an individually created curriculum to prepare learners for their chosen university degree.

“Attending the Brooke House Foundation Programme was a major steppingstone in my preparation for university, it also helped me to become a Student Representative in my first year and also part of the University of Birmingham’s Law Talkers Community in my final year. I am and will always be extremely grateful for the amazing time I spent at Brooke House as it has led me thus far.”

Zainab Yesufu from Nigeria
now reading Law at University of Birmingham

“I studied the University Foundation Programme at Brooke House College and I am about to finish my undergraduate degree in Economics and have been accepted to begin a postgraduate degree in September 2020. The programme (UFP at Brooke House College) was very helpful for me to get into my university and I enjoyed studying at the college with my friendly classmates and responsible professional tutors.”

Tong Tong from China
read Economics at City University

We also offer bespoke two year Foundation Programmes available on a case by case basis. Please enquire at the email or telephone number below.
